

A Sampling of Testimonials for Ilene Proctor

“I recommend Ilene Proctor for her professionalism and her quick response to any question or request. She has done amazing PR work. For example she was integral in the promotion of Vincent Bugliosi’s great book The Prosecution of George W. Bush for Murder. She has also navigated the process for the making of the documentary based on the book. She represents famous people and people who are not famous but diligently work to offer something worthwhile to the public. Whether or not you consider yourself as a progressive, a liberal, or as someone simply interested in using facts in your books and projects, Ms. Proctor is someone I think you will find very helpful.”

— Mike Hersh, Manager Social Media, Communications

National Staff at Progressive Democrats of America

“Ilene helped reach constituents and potential supporters nationally for two congressional races of mine in 2006 and 2008. She succeeded at booking me on dozens of television and radio shows, in addition to garnering several print venues. I’ve kept going back to her because nobody does public relations like Ilene Proctor — enthusiastic, attentive and produces results. Often, PR contracts can be nightmarish, with great fanfare on the front-end as you’re being sold on ‘what they can do’ for you, and then crickets on the back-end, while they have your money in hand. Ilene never did that to me, and I wholeheartedly recommend her and her company.”

— Byron DeLear
