

*"We're talking about taking back the country, folks."
—BARRY GORDON*

It's a Whole New Ballgame!

"You're doing your part and I appreciate that." —SEN. BARBARA BOXER

*"Barry, you keep speaking your words, speaking your mind, speaking your heart."
—BURT BACHARACH*

"This 'Left Field' thing ... seems like a pretty happy place." —LOU DOBBS

BARRY GORDON—lifelong entertainer, longest-serving president of the Screen Actors Guild, and former candidate for Congress—has been talking politics, show business, and other hot topics on KCAA 1050 AM in Southern California, webcast and podcast worldwide by KCAARADIO.com and BarryTalk.com, on Sundays throughout 2006. Primed for weekday network syndication, with an “everyman” voice and persona people know and trust, Barry’s takes on the political ballgame are smart and lively, filled with passion and humor, as he and his co-host, author/actress/activist Ellen Snortland, field calls from listeners and interview some of the top guests on the air today:

- Such political insiders as Sen. Barbara Boxer, Sen. Byron Dorgan, Former Sen. Gary Hart, Rep. John Conyers Jr., Rep. Henry Waxman, and Mayor Jerry Brown.
- Such respected authors and analysts as Professor Noam Chomsky, Washington insider Craig Crawford, Court TV’s Catherine Crier, Watergate’s John Dean, CNN’s Lou Dobbs, media guru Arianna Huffington, former U.N. weapons inspector Scott Ritter, “peace mom” Cindy Sheehan, SEIU President Andy Stern, AFL-CIO President John Sweeney, dean of the White House press corps Helen Thomas, and legendary writer Gore Vidal.

- Such celebrated entertainment figures as actors Ed Asner and Ed Begley Jr., musicians Burt Bacharach and Lisa Loeb, comedians and impressionists Nora Dunn and Jim “Jibjab” Meskimen, film critics Kenneth Turan of the Los Angeles Times and Michael Wilmington of the Chicago Tribune, and many more!

Progressive talk radio reaches millions of listeners—generally younger, richer, and better informed than most—it is increasingly popular among the majority of talk radio listeners who do not march in lockstep with the rantmeisters of the Right. BARRY GORDON FROM LEFT FIELD capitalizes not only on that growing phenomenon but also on Barry’s friendly voice and personality, known to millions over the years from stage, screen, and TV, in everything from “Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles” to “Archie Bunker’s Place” and “Curb Your Enthusiasm.” Unlike so many talk show hosts, Barry is passionate but likeable; his co-host, Ellen Snortland, is also a polished performer—often finding humor in politics and everyday life.

Smart, funny, friendly, and passionate about the news and trends that affect us all—from war and peace overseas to bread-and-butter issues right here at home—Barry Gordon and his co-host, guests, and callers nationwide aren’t afraid to stand up to the powers that be and tell it like it is. BARRY GORDON FROM LEFT FIELD ... it's a whole new ballgame!
