

Dear Artists,

Come work with some of the most creative student artists in Los Angeles. ROOM 13 Foshay -- a student-run, student-financed art studio -- invites you to come and enjoy an unforgettable day of creative expression.

Wouldn't you like to do art without having people ask you if you are working or not? Do you just want to go wild with a piece of paper and whatever you use to make the paper colorful?

On Saturday, October 25, 2008, Room 13 Foshay is having an Open Studio / Family Art Day at Foshay Learning Center, from 11AM to 4PM. We will have art-making stations, face painting, balloon art, food and drinks (at affordable prices), and many more fun activities. There will be some of our art for you to see, and time for you to make your own art -- you can hang it on your refrigerator if you want!

We are also in the process of looking for an Artist-in-Residence. Visiting the studio on the 25th could be a way for you to check us out and see if you are interested. Friends and family are also welcome.

We want to thank you for all your help. We really appreciate it.

Directions: Room 13 Foshay is at the Foshay Learning Center, 3751 S. Harvard Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90018. It is near the corner of Exposition Blvd. and Western Ave. You can enter campus parking from Exposition; that is the only gate into the campus. We will be in room F156 (otherwise known as "Room 13"). There will be signs on campus directing you to the room.
